in his thirteen years as vicar popular author david adam welcomed over 1 million pilgrims to the holy island of lindesfarne in northumberland each pilgrim had a story to tell and each came for a different reason some radiated a sense of god s presence and others were simply too hurried to do anything but look around quickly and move on to the next site using the stories of pilgrims adam encountered on holy island he explores how we can approach our own lives as pilgrimage without ever leaving the comfort of our homes how can we move beyond what is safe in our world and encounter the mystery how can we learn to disconnect from all the technology that keeps us multi tasking all day and all night how can we rediscover awe in the world around us in the wonderful prose and poetry for which he is so well loved david adam helps us get on the road of life even when we don t have time to travel to distant lands nordic homicide in deep time draws a unique and detailed picture of developments in human interpersonal violence and presents new findings on rates patterns and long term changes in lethal violence in the nordics conducted by an interdisciplinary team of criminologists and historians the book analyses homicide and lethal violence in northern europe in two eras the 17th century and early 21st century similar and continuous societal structures cultural patterns and legal cultures allow for long term and comparative homicide research in the nordic context reflecting human universals and stable motives such as revenge jealousy honour and material conflicts homicide as a form of human behaviour enables long duration comparison by describing the rates and patterns of homicide during these two eras the authors unveil continuity and change in human violence where and when did homicide typically take place who were the victims and the offenders what where the circumstances of their conflicts was intimate partner homicide more prevalent in the early modern period than in present times how long a time elapsed from violence to death were homicides often committed in the context of other crime the book offers answers to these questions among others comparing regions and eras we gain a unique and empirically grounded view on how state consolidation and changing routines of everyday life transformed the patterns of criminal homicide in nordic society the path to pacification was anything but easy punctuated by shorter crises of social turmoil and high violence the book is also a methodological experiment that seeks to assess the feasibility of long duration standardized homicide analysis and to better understand the logic of homicide variation across space and over time in developing a new approach for extending homicide research into the deep past the authors have created the historical homicide monitor the new instrument combines wide explanatory scope measurement standardization and articulated theory expression by retroactively expanding research data to the pre statistical era the method enables long duration comparison of different periods and areas based on in depth source critique the approach captures patterns of criminal behaviour beyond the control activity of the courts the authors foresee the application of their approach in even remoter periods nordic homicide in deep time helps the reader to understand modern homicide by revealing the historical continuities and changes in lethal violence the book is written for professionals university students and anyone interested in the history of human behaviour

a history of our time in this important book nicholas hartlep and daniel scott s detailed analyses on both visual and historical representations of asian americans in textbooks and teacher manuals used in our elementary and secondary schools poignantly tell us that generations of children are growing up being fed this single story about asian americans as hartlep and scott write asian americans have once again been constructed as the good minority that can succeed on their own and be used as a political instrument to shame the blacks for their underachievement and their fight for equality over and over again the media has been telling a single story about asian americans to the public for the past fifty years the consequence of this fabricated story is that it discourages others even asian americans themselves from believing in the validity of their struggles linshi 2014 p 1
