Beyond the Surface Level: Unveiling Class Through Actions and Choices

Class isn't just about the designer handbag or the chipped paint on the walls. It's about ingrained habits, cultural norms, access to opportunities, and the very air one breathes. A character's interactions with social services, their choices regarding education, their comfort level with formal settings, their understanding of financial constraints—these all speak volumes about their class background. Consider the subtle difference between a character who takes a bus home versus one who drives a luxury car. It's not just transportation; it's a statement about lifestyle, values, and the possibilities that exist or don't exist for them.
